

Welcome to the Epsom and St Helier Unison website

No matter if you're new to UNISON or a seasoned activist, here you'll find a wealth of interesting information, including how the union is structured, where we direct our energies and contact details for your local representatives.

Get active!

Want to get involved?

Meet new people, learn new skills and go places.. get involved in your union! Information about branch roles, workplace contacts, stewards and health & safety reps.

Activists' zone

A range of information, documents and advice useful to UNISON activists.

Bargaining zone

Includes information on how UNISON's Bargaining Support Group can help you win better pay and conditions in your workplace.

Employment Rights

Advice and online briefings on legal and industrial relations issues.

Health and safety

A top priority for UNISON - If you're concerned about your workplace conditions or want to become a local health and safety rep.

Learning and organising in UNISON

Learning and Organising Services (LAOS) co-ordinates education and training for UNISON activists and members.

New structures, new partnerships, new ways of working

Public services are changing. So, how does our union need to make sure we can support our members in these changing times? It means looking at what we do and how we do it to ensure that we best deliver for our members and protect the services they provide.

Pay and conditions

Pay scale data and links to further information on pay and working conditions

Recruitment

Essential information and advice about recruiting for branches, stewards and individual recruiters.